CONTINUE TO IMPROVE

Conditions in Galveston Growing Better Day by Day.

MORE BODIES FOUND.

The Danger of an Epidemic Is Less Feared Now--Trains Will Be Running into the City in a Very Few Days.

Galveston, Sept. 19.—Generally speaking, conditions are improved at every point. The various committees continue to carry out the tasks they have on hand and on all sides progress, which would not have been thought possible, is being made. Business concerns are resuming business or making every possible effort toward that end. Whenever possible buildings are being repaired, at least to an extent which will protect their contents from the elements. Roofs are being replaced with temporary shields against the wind and rain, panes of glass are being placed in the frames which were destroyed by the storm and stores are being cleaned out and the damaged goods they contain exposed to the sun and wind in order to dry them and thus minimize the damage done.

Early yesterday morning there was a sharp shower of rain, the first since the storm, which, while it lasted but a few minutes, showed how absolutely necessary it is to get the buildings of the town in something like their normal condition as soon as possible. Out in the residence portion of the town the rainfall undoubtedly caused at least a great amount of discomfort, for hundreds of houses which were not absolutely uninhabitable during the prevalence of fair weather, were drenched and deluged and the weary and heartsick people they sheltered were rendered all the more miserable.

The progress that has been made in securing a correct list of the dead is something wonderful, considering all the circumstances. Debris is being removed in all parts of the town and many more bodies were burned yesterday. There are places here, however, which the workers have been unable to reach, and will be for many days yet to come.

It must be understood in this connection that while the work of repairing and making proof against the elements the buildings of the city is a very important feature of the situation, the matter of cleaning up the debris and disposing of the dead bodies therein is a paramount one on account of the danger which may result to the public health were this work not done as rapidly as possible.

Right here it should be said that, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, there is at present practically no likelihood whatever that anything like an epidemic will result from the presence of decomposing bodies and the deposits made by the water during the storm. This is perhaps a broad statement, but it is one which is backed by all of the eminent medical authorities of the city, who are certainly in a position to know if any one is.

It is utterly unreasonable for one to think that the people of Galveston and the workers in the cause of cleaning can proceed rapidly. Not only is it a task, but it is a task which has conditions existing which are new to the people engaged in the work, and they cannot work with the energy which is their wont.

As to the dead, as stated before, how the full list will be ever known is hard to say. There are places in the city where for blocks and blocks not a house remains, and no one can give an instance of having seen a resident of the locality since the fury of the storm was spent. Whole families were swept out to sea, and the survivors of the calamity are too busy with their own, and the work which must be done, to remember whom they knew when the island city was in its prime.

Another point in the matter of the dead, is that there were many visitors in the city at the time whose names have never been reported either in the list of the living or of the dead. Possibly few people knew they were here, and in the confusion incident to the days following the storm, those who were cognizant of the presence of these visitors have been too busy to think of the stranger in the land. It is true that a clew to missing people is gained by inquiries of anxious friends or relatives, and these queries are answered either "dead" or "alive." But remember that in every city in the country there are a certain number of people who are unknown beyond the limits of their own home.

The sick and wounded are receiving the best of treatment and the facilities are such that anyone needing medical attention can have it on application.

Besides the other hospitals and medical relief stations already in service, the marine hospital and refugee camp was opened Tuesday afternoon and will accommodate a large number of patients.

Persons able to travel have been taken from the hospitals and sent in the revenue cutters and by other means of transportation to Houston and other relief stations of the mainland.

The storm wrecked almost every vault in the six cemeteries and many of the dead were washed to sea in metal caskets. So far only one casket has been found. It had been carried three miles from the vault.

The extension of the electric lighting system continues. By tonight the district from Twentieth to Twenty-seventh street and from the bay to Broadway will be equipped with street lights.

More than 200 skilled mechanics were brought here Tuesday from Texas cities. The work is carried on through a committee consisting of B. Adone and Father Kirwin, acting in conjunction with the labor council who pass upon the recommendation and qualifications of all applicants.

CLARA BARTON SICK.

Accompanied by three nurses, she will leave at once for home in Washington. She retires from the field only upon the imperative orders of her physicians.

She was stricken Tuesday at a conference in her rooms at the Tremont hotel with her staff of nine gathered about her. She had just finished an outline of her work, assigning each member of her staff to the particular part of the work that one was to do.

Rebuilding the Bridge.

Galveston, Sept. 19.—Three piledrivers were gotten to work Tuesday closing up the breach in Galveston Lay bridge made by the steamship Roma. The rebuilding of the bridge is progressing rapidly. A message from General Superintendent Nixon of the Santa Fe railroad to General Manager Polk says that trains will be able to cross on tomorrow. Orders have been issued to allow freight to proceed to Galveston. The one bridge will be heavily taxed. Engines are again running into the union depot and switching in the wharf yards and are bringing freight to the ships in port.

Loading Wheat at Galveston.

Galveston, Sept. 19.—The first sign of the resumption of commerce came today when elevator A, began running and in the afternoon the steamship Tallefords went under the spouts for loading wheat. The elevator will run night and day from now on. Other elevators cannot be repaired for some time.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 20 1900

A German couple who got off the noon train here en route to Plantersville was greatly disturbed to learn that they had alighted and allowed the train to proceed, taking with it their five year old child. They were nearly heart broken and entertained the gravest apprehensions of never seeing the child again. As soon as the railroad officials learned of the oversight they wired the conductor at Bryan to send the youngster back by the next train, and in due time they replied that he was in charge of the lost treasure.—Navasota Examiner.

A Fine Testimonial.

Dr. C. A. Wood, Bryan, Texas.
Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in saying that I feel that your treatment has benefited my rheumatism more than anything else that I have ever tried. I have spent some two months at prominent resorts, besides using quite a number of well known medicines. In fact I feel confident that could I remain under your treatment for a week, you would have me fully cured. I have only taken three treatments.
Very truly,

THAT GERMAN DEMAND

Washington Officials Intimate It May Lead to Prolonged War.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The impression here is that the German note demanding punishment of Chinese officials who are responsible for the outrages upon foreigners as a condition precedent to peace negotiations has brought the Chinese trouble to an acute crisis as far as the United States government is concerned. This conclusion is based upon the belief in official circles that the Chinese government cannot accept the German proposition, so that it is now for the United States government to either withdraw its forces from China immediately or join Germany and England and perhaps some other of the allied powers in a prolonged war with China.

Attention was directed in some quarters to the fact that in the very beginning in the note of July 3, Secretary Hay had notified the Chinese government he expected the guilty persons in connection with the outrages would be punished. However, this demand was not made a condition precedent to negotiations.

The belief is growing that if the United States government is forced to a speedy decision as to the German position it may resort to direct negotiations with the Chinese government and having settled its scores with that government will withdraw from China, giving notice to the allied powers there of an arrangement made in order that such arrangement remain in full force and unaffected by any settlement the allies may make thereafter as to China.

ELECTION IN CUBA.

The Revolutionary Party Captures Most of Constitutional Delegates.

Havana, Sept. 19.—The results of the elections of delegates to the forthcoming constitutional convention are being freely discussed by the Havana delegates and other prominent Cubans. The conclusion reached is that the convention will be controlled by the revolutionary element. Senor Alfredo Zayas, Nationalist delegate, said:

"The convention will not allow itself to be influenced by any representative of the United States. It will adopt and follow independent policy throughout, in my opinion, refusing to decide as to relations which shall exist between Cuba and the United States. This is a matter that should be left to a special committee."

Mayor Rodriguez expressed the same opinion, and other representative delegates in various parts of the island adopt the same attitude.

In the main the delegates are capable men. Most of them, it is said, are in favor of immediate and absolute independence without the intervention of a protectorate.

The defeated Republicans and fusionists here, however, have raised the cry of fraud and have already held a mass meeting to protest against the alleged practice.

ANOTHER FOREIGN LOAN.

Swedish Bonds Being Placed by a New York Bank.

New York, Sept. 19.—The terms of the $2,000,000 Swedish bond issue which is being placed in part in the United States through the National Park bank, have been announced as follows:

The issue consists of bonds bearing interest for ten years from Aug. 15, 1900 to Aug. 15, 1910 at 4 per cent per annum, and after that date at 3½ per cent per annum, the Swedish National debt office binding itself not to redeem the loan before Aug. 15, 1920, on and after which date the loan may be redeemed at par, subject to three months notice.

President Delafield of the National Park bank said yesterday that the portion of the loan to which that bank has undertaken to receive subscriptions in this country would not be offered to the public, but to private bankers and brokers who would in turn interest their own clients in the matter.

ELECTION IN ENGLAND.

The Liberals Declare They Do Not Want
to Carry the Election.

London, Sept. 19.—Lord Salisbury has passed a busy day in London, holding his usual weekly reception and seeing six or eight ambassadors. His health has improved during his holidays in the Vosges, and he has the manner of a statesman who considers himself equal to any political emergency and to all the anxieties of state. The marquis of Lansdowne is almost the only colleague who has been closeted with him during the last 24 hours—but the war office is the point at which the cabinet reconstruction must naturally begin.

Sir William Waldron, the chief government whip, has kept a large force of clerks busy since the announcement of the dissolution of parliament was officially made, but he was not taken by surprise, nor the Unionist canvass was not in an advanced state of preparation.
Herbert Gladstone has been at Leeds,
where he had an appointment to address
his own political supporters and the Liberal headquarters have been deserted.
The Liberals are not making a noisy canvass, but are conducting what would be described in America as a "still hunt." They do not expect to carry the elections, and, indeed, would be embarrassed if the unexpected should happen and they should find themselves in the majority and then be unable to form a working homogenous ministry. Their leading men frankly concede a Unionist victory, and assert that Mr. Chamberlain must have the responsibility of settling the war.

What they do expect is that by a careful and judicious choice of candidates,
and by avoidance of wasteful contests,
they may be able to reduce the Unionist majority to 50 or 70. Every appeal to the electorate is fraught with surprises,
and the Liberals may do better than their most hopeful politicians imagine,
and without doubt it is true that the last parliament was more strongly Unionist than the country, and that at least 30 seats under normal conditions would be regained by the Liberals this year.

But as many more are imperilled because their radical holders were out of touch with British policy when the "soldiers of the queen" were fighting in South Africa. Political experts for this reason are disposed to believe that Liberal gains will be balanced by losses,
and that the new parliament will be as strongly Unionist as the old parliament.

While the China question does not enter into the political canvass, and indeed, is temporarily laid on the shelf
until Count von Waldersee can arrive in Peking from Hong Kong to take command of the international forces and save the dignity of the German emperor.
South Africa has again become the center of public interest. General French has been converted into an election-ing agent, whose captures of engines and military stores are invested with political significance, and whose arrival at Koomatipoort is looked for about the date of the final nominations for parliament.

Special dispatches describing the demoralization of the Boer forces, and forecasting a general surrender of the burghers still in arms are well timed for election purposes and the rumor has been revived that General Roberts will resign the command and leave General Buller in charge of the army of occupation about the time when the first contests are held in England and Scotland.
General Roberts is, however, a good soldier and a poor politician. The war is coming to an end, but it is not yet finished.

As the siege of a British garrison for weeks in the western Transvaal sufficiently indicates, and his judgment will be indispensable in the final stages,
when police work is substituted for military campaigning, and the defeated and desperate burghers need to be alternately coaxed and bullied into laying down their arms and abandoning a hopeless conflict.

OLD FEUD RENEWED.

One Man Is Killed, Two Fatally Shot
and One Injured.

Madisonville, Tenn., Sept. 19.—The Howard-McGhee feud has had a dramatic and tragic climax, in which one man was killed, two others fatally and one seriously wounded. Charles Jones and his brother Joshua entered the Clew hotel diningroom which was filled with guests, and took seats at a table. A moment later Calvin and Tom Howard entered the room and met the Jones brothers face to face. In an instant revolvers were drawn by the four men and about 30 shots were fired in quick succession,
the terrified guests making their exit
from the room by way of doors and windows.

When the firing ceased Charles Jones was found dead on the floor with two bullet wounds in his heart and three in the head, Joshua Jones and Calvin Howard were mortally wounded and unconscious and Tom Howard, the only one of the quartette left on his feet, had a

COAL MINERS' STRIKE

President Mitchell Claims All the Mines Will Have to Close.

MANY MEN ARE OUT.

A Prominent Operator Declares the Owners Will Never Submit to the Demands of Strikers.
No Coal Being Shipped.

Philadelphia, Sept. 19. — President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, made an unofficial statement early this morning that about 126,000 were out of the 141,000 mine workers in the anthracite fields and the mines were idle. All strike leaders say with confidence that every mine will be tied up before the end of the week and the production of coal will be at a standstill.

Marching in the form of persuasion or coercion, used by the Hazleton strikers in 1897, began in earnest early this morning in the Hazleton region. A determined band of strikers from McAdoo went to several mines before daybreak and induced several hundred men not to return to work. It was this morning from mine to mine, day after day, in an effort to stop the men from working that culminated in the awful massacre by the sheriff's deputies there three years ago.

Calvin Pardee, one of the most influential mine owners in the Hazleton region, has given out an interview full of defiance in which he declared the operators will never yield to the demands of the strikers and that it is a fight to the finish.

What is likely to become a serious feature of the situation is the stoppage of coal traffic and the consequent laying off of coal crews. The carrying of coal is almost at a standstill in the Wyoming and Lackawanna regions and many hundreds of railroaders are idle. These men are likely to take action designed to force the strike to a quick conclusion. Even the Reading company, which has more coal for sale than any other company, is feeling the effects of the strike and shipping less coal.

BRYAN LEAVES KANSAS

He Refuses to Discuss Imperialism With Senator Mark Hanna.

Leavenworth, Kas., Sept. 19.—A special train over the Missouri Pacific road bore Mr. Bryan out of Kansas today. The first stop was made at Kansas City and here Mr. Bryan spoke for half an hour from the rear platform. Mr. Bryan's attention was called to the speech made at Delphi, Ind., by Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, in which he said he was ready to debate the question of imperialism with Mr. Bryan or any other Democrat. In reply to the question whether he would accept the challenge from Mr. Hanna, Mr. Bryan said:

"I know nothing of the matter except what appears in the papers. No challenge has been received and I would not accept it if it were. While I would be glad to debate public questions with the Republican candidate for the presidency, I would not be willing to debate with one whose responsibility is less than my own. If I am elected I shall be president. If the Republican committee will certify that Hanna is to be president in case of the Republicans success, I shall willingly to meet him in joint debate."

Mr. Bryan also was asked if he had anything to say in reply to Hanna's charge that he was influenced by sinister motives in securing the ratification of the treaty with Spain. To this he replied:

"I have given my reasons for believing it better to ratify the treaty and declare the nation's policy by reason and the voters have an opportunity to pass judgment upon my reasons. I must confess, however, Hanna is an expert when he discusses sinister motives, but I can stand his criticism if Senator Hoar can endure his praise."

Took No German Ship.

Lorenzo Marques, Sept. 19.—Mr. Kruger, former president of the South African republic, did not sail for Europe on the German steamer Herzog as originally intended.

Reducing Production of Yarn.

Charlotte, N. C.—The recommendation of the Southern Cotton Spinners' association that its members curtail their production of yarns as much as possible for 60 days, has been common with by enough mills to bring about a reduction in the southern output of about 40 per cent. Two large mills at Malden, N. C., have suspended operations altogether.

The supporters of Congressman R. B. Hawley also held a state convention in the Grand opera house yesterday. A temporary organization was affected with C. M. Ferguson as temporary chairman, and the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, when the committees on credentials, resolutions and permanent organization will report. The latter will recommend Senator Walter Burns of Houston for permanent chairman.

It is probable that a state ticket will be nominated.

Prohibition Campaign.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The Prohibition rear platform campaign began at 8:30 o'clock this morning when a special train of a baggage car and two Pullmans left the union depot. Among those aboard were John G. Woolley, candidate for president; Henry B. Metcalfe, candidate for vice president; Volney B. Cushing of Bangor, Me., and Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the national committee. The train will run through Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and other central and western states.

Would Not Discuss Letter.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Neither Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national executive committee, nor Vice Chairman Payne would discuss W. J. Bryan's letter of acceptance. "Enough replies will be made to the letter from the platform by men who are in the habit of speaking," said the senator. It is announced at the Democratic national headquarters that next week A. E. Stevenson will begin a campaign speaking tour of Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Fatal Harvesting Accident.

Dublin, Ind., Sept. 19.—John F. Lightner, living three miles southeast of Dublin, was accidentally killed while cutting corn with a riding corn cultivator. He died in a short time from loss of blood. Lightner and Roscoe Hoser were cutting corn on the Hoser farm, near Jacksonburg, when the machine struck in a rut. Both were thrown from the machine and Lightner fell into the knives. The fleshy part of his leg was literally torn into threads before the cutter could be stopped.

Found Dead in a Cotton Wagon.

Sherman, Tex., Sept. 19.—Raymond, the 5-year-old son of R. B. Hatfield, a farmer living three miles west of here, was found in a wagon of seed cotton. There is no other theory than that the child clambered into the wagon and the seed fell on him and smothered him.

Neck Broken by a Fall.

Frost, Tex., Sept. 19.—Farmer Raley, about 60 years old, was thrown from his wagon near town and his neck was broken. He had sold his cotton and was returning home.
